Indian Hair

Comes in straight and wavy.

It is already processed this is the reason for its life span being shorter than Russian hair. Processing done to Indian hair is done overseas. It is great for the long fashion look and lasts the above life span. This hair is heavier and courser than Westerners hair. This is one of the reasons for the processing to try to make the hair finer. Processing does effect the condition and lifespan.

It is also harder to manage than Russian hair, more time must be spent styling and putting treatments to replenish moisture. It also tends to tangle more frequently than Russian hair.

I recommend this hair for the short term user, who finds styling their hair easy and has time to spend on their hair. Indian hair is not recommended for coloring or swimming.

For the long term user I highly recommend Russian hair.
